DISCLOSURE CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

MATERIAL INFORMATION RELEASE

1. MATERIAL INFORMATION RELEASE GUIDELINES

Material information is generally considered to be any information relating to the business and affairs of the Corporation that results in, or would reasonably be expected to result in a significant effect on the market price or value of the Corporation's securities or that would reasonably be expected to have a significant influence on a reasonable investor's investment decisions. The decision as to what constitutes material information is a question of business judgment.

In complying with the requirement to disclose all material information under applicable laws and stock exchange rules in a timely manner, the Corporation will adhere to the following basic disclosure principles:

- (a) Subject to the terms of this Policy, information that constitutes a "material change" under Canadian securities laws will be publicly disclosed immediately via news release and be widely distributed.

- (b) Material information should be promptly generally disclosed, however, it may be kept confidential temporarily if the immediate release of the information would be unduly detrimental to the interests of the Corporation. In such cases, the information will be kept confidential until the Disclosure Committee or a designate determines it is appropriate to publicly disclose or that the Corporation has a legal obligation to do so and the timing of a decision to delay shall be documented. In certain circumstances, the Disclosure Committee or a designate may cause a confidential material change report to be filed with the applicable securities regulators and will periodically (at least every 10 days) review its decision to keep the information confidential.
- (c) Disclosure must be factual and non-speculative and must include any information the omission of which would make the rest of the disclosure misleading.
- (d) Unfavourable material information must be disclosed as promptly and completely as favourable information.
- (e) If previously undisclosed material information has been inadvertently disclosed, such information must be broadly disclosed immediately via news release. In certain circumstances, applicable securities laws allow for selective disclosure where doing so is in the necessary course of business. Selective disclosure of material information under this exception should generally be reviewed and confirmed with the Corporation's legal counsel.
- (f) Disclosure on the Corporation's web site alone does not constitute adequate disclosure of material information.
- (g) Disclosure must be corrected immediately if the Corporation subsequently learns that earlier disclosure by the Corporation contained a material error at the time it was originally distributed.
- (h) The Corporation does not comment on rumours. This also applies to rumours on the Internet. The Corporation's authorized spokespersons or designates will respond consistently to those rumours, saying, "It is our policy not to comment on market rumours or speculation."
